

Sinclair Broadcasting's should not force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary. Doing this just before the election shows the inherent problems with media consolidation.

Sinclair's obligation to serve the public interest should be monitored carefully. Showing this documentary is clear evidence of the group's financial ties to the Bush administration and does not serve the public interest--rather, one-sided electioneering is a more accurate description.

Sinclair's actions are an abuse of their financial and corporate power and show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Please stop this forced broadcast, or force comparable time to be spent supporting the other candidates.

Thank you.
